Make sure you don't have anything using up a lot of CPU or RAM running in the background. Also if you have all your detail settings at high, decrease them.

My 5300FX did just fine, even on max detail settings... though my resolution was crap bandie: in addition to what Renx asked, what resolution do you play the game at? If it's larger than 800x600 on that card, I'd recommend turning down either the resolution or the detail settings (or both).
