

---

Subject: Re: Favourite Genre Of Music?

Posted by pulverizer on Sat, 01 Oct 2005 16:49:24 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

sniper12345 wrote on Thu, 29 September 2005 00:30pulverizer wrote on Mon, 26 September 2005 15:49sniper12345 wrote on Mon, 26 September 2005 10:58pulverizer wrote on Thu, 22 September 2005 13:42I guess you're a drummer, But don't you like dave lombardo? he's a great drummer. He's back in slayer now. and that drummer from Dream theater?

Mike Portnoy, what about Meshuggah? Tomas Haake reigns supreme over both Lombardo and Portnoy in terms of technical ability. Joey Jordison is sloppy as hell, what are you people smoking?

Anyway, I play the guitar, bass and keyboards. I used to play the trumpet and recorder as well.

I don't have any music from Meshuggah. Gene hoglan is also a very good drummer. at least I think he's a good drummer. I'm a bass player so I don't know much about drums,well, not technical. I always play along with the drum though.

Gene Hoglan...of course. I love his current work with Strapping Young Lad as well as what he did with Death as well.

I finally got the new Opeth CD Ghost Reveries, it's so good.

Oh, and I've been playing the piano/keyboards for almost 10 years, guitar for about 4 years, and bass around the same.

I don't have any new work from gene hoglan. Only from death. does he still play trash metal with fast heavy double bass? I've heard that he has to walk with a stick because his knees are damaged cause of his drumming.

---