Hello all, well in RenegadeDemo There is no anticheat mod/dll that works. Me and a friend have decided to create 1. We need advice that can help us. Here is our idea on wut to do. First we create a server.dll which the person who is hosting the server uses. Then we create a client.dll, which the user of the server has to have in data folder. The way it works is this. If you have the client.dll in your folder it will not allo wyou to have any files besides the original files that you got when you installed Demo. Also if you dont have the client.dll and you try to join a server that has the server.dll then it will say version mismatch. Any advice would help greatly.
Thanks-
