cough

Yes Jake have done that, more times then i can count on one hand too. But serious relationships always turn out bad for me, so I usually have 1 night casual sex with friends, if we are both single and both using protection I dont see the big deal.

No, woman, I mean that's what happened to me. Though, I am pretty sure I would have done it without alcohol.

Edit: Warranto, for your information, the only that degrades when I'm intoxicated are my motor skills. I still show and use common sense, and I am just as coherent when intoxicated as I am sober. It was the experimentation that I found to be intriguing, not because I was acting like a 7-12 year old.
