Go to their website...there is a tool there, simple enough to run that will direct your Ren game to send you to XWIS instead of WOL...you connect as normal after running the programme, Ren > Multiplayer Online > Westwood online > Advanced Games listings and it should bring you to XWIS servers.....If you wanna reset it to WOL (doubtful) run the tool again and click Reset!
I will edit a link on later...

If all else fails.....see if you can direct connect to some servers using a simple irc script. I have one people can use....all you need is the I.P of the game server, It's port and your nick name (and irc)

```
servername {
  run "C:\Westwood\Renegade\game.exe" +connect .ip.here. $+ : $+ PORT +netplayername " $+ Nickname $+ "
```

Place that in your aliases folder (in irc) and when you wanna join while on irc type /servername It will automatically take you through ren and into the server to join.

-----
If that is too much for you then just type:

```
/run "C:\Westwood\Renegade\game.exe" +connect .ip.here. $+ : $+ PORT +netplayername " $+ nickname $+ "
```

In the irc chat window you are in....(although I don't think this cmd works if you have RG)

NOTE please change the following on the above cmd: **.ip.here.** needs to be the servers I.P
PORT needs to be the port number nickname needs to be changed to whatever name you are using.

I hope this helps some of you, I know it is quite confusing, but hopefull XWIS will get a move on in the merger and we can return to our happy fun ren lives....

Please correct me if im wrong folks.... just trying to help.
