I get the same kind of Operation Timed Out Message. The few times that i have gotten on there have been no servers just like you said. Don't try to go to EA about it bc they are having problems such as when i put in my name and pass it says that it doesn't exist then you go to make a new one and you get invaild URL but you have to sign in to ask a question. I have tried to direct e-mail them and i got that you need to do it through the web and i explained that i couldn't so they were like well here's some URL's that could help but none of them did. So for WOL as of right now it seems dead.
