Ikaika (Aug), VisionKill (RT-E), and Evil_Redman (RT-E) are all excellent snipers. All are also from clans that emphasize "sniping" over AOW.

I also know for a fact (as supported by other players and even the BHS staff) ... that Renguard is not foolproof and queries CAN be inaccurate.

Why don't you just sit back and wait for this latest RG patch to come out (which claims to help maintain connection to the RG network better) and see if these problems get any better. I'm willing to bet they do.

I cannot speak for Ikaika and say he does not cheat because only Ikaika would know that. BUT I CAN say that he has always been an excellent sniper since the early Ren days. And I will speak on behalf of the RTE members (since we are in the same clan) and say that they do not cheat. I play with them day in and day out -- got to know each of them personally - and have seen their performance on multiple servers. And I've seen them at their worst.

I hope this clears up a lot of questions...
