scrinstormWhat happened to the site?

It was said in this thread:

Apparently:

ArUsH4nlln00bstories.com Under Attack

Just wanted to let everyone know what's going on with the N00bstories site.

First off, due to a packet flood, the site and its entire hosting domain are down. That means Protonic.com is down, and hundreds of other sites are down. Apparently, someone finds it funny to packet flood websites like that.

Second, the main network for C&C chatting is also under attack, by the same individual. RadiantX, found by <irc.radiantx.net>, has a good number of its servers down and unable to operate. If you cannot connect to the #planetcnc chat or the #n00bstories chat, then that's the reason why.

Hopefully this will end soon. With N00bstories.com being down, that also means that the Official Renegade Forums are down as well.

thats on CnC den

hopefully its all back 2 normal soon
