I hate walls_flying because it's infested with snipers who stand on the wall and shoot everything they see. because of said action when i or my team manages to kill one they can afford another due to points they got.

Field is a pretty good map in that if you want tank fights you can easily go in the field and if you wanted to practice infantry the tunnels is perfect for that.

City_Flying is fun because even if there are snipers you can usually avoid them by not being in their LOS.

non defence map would be islands
