I was chilling in a Café yesterday with my friend after recently getting baked playing chess and noticed that beside us there was a 'gypsy' set up with card readings, future telling etc. (It's a hemp style cafe, complete with herbal teas, cookies, etc and a range of bongos, pipes, and other smoking accessories)

Now I personally don't really believe in this kinda stuff, but at the same time I don't think you should mess with the future and that if it WERE real, that it is dangerous and should not be done.

You guys believe in this stuff? The guy MUST have been baked 'cause he was talking up a storm at the place about the most strangest things (he was of east indian decent, but a regular Canadian accent). He does tea readings, cards, picture tellings and more (Pretty expensive... $35+). He was also talking about how the Gypsy books that are sold today are complete bullshit because they don't want anyone else to 'master the art', he said his Aunt is an author... I dunno, wierd strange stuff.
