Firstly, you can't get their names. But you can get the server name, wich is just as good.

Secondly, You might have paid one time for this game. But the hosts are paying every month an amount of cash for there servers that is alot more than Renegade is worth now. They have every right to want to be 100% secure about there not being any cheaters on there servers.

There are still some non RG servers, you just should look for these. I'm sorry RG doesn't work on windows 2000.
