Mission, what you say is exactly what I always say: if it works, don't fix it!

And about the technicians: it all depends. You just need to find the right place.

Look at ISP-helpdesk: most people there can just help you with ordinary problems and most people also call for that, so it's logical. My ISP-helpdesk = ONE person and he can help about everyone with every problem they encounter.

You just confirm what i said: many can handle more problems better cause they have the experience, that's what you're paying them for, no? I can also make pizza but I still go get it at pizza hut because they got the experience and material to do it better/faster .
