I would not say this was a 'cheat' like a wallhack or aimbot.

Instead this guy was able to switch teams on a non team swicthing server and what's more before he switched he would load up a building with C4 switch and blow it and get the points.

He repeated this twice at start of every game and just went and bought a tank or whatever he fancied.

Was a half renguard server and the guy was using renguard.
