i am a knight of the internet

i am a moderator on [NE] Public Warzone

i did indeed drop two timed on two buildings, switch myself, wait for the timed c4s to blow, purchase an APC, and drop two more C4 on two of the other team's buildings as well, and then switch back. I did this only when there were fewer than 8 players at the game start and on maps which suck with such few players (such as Under and Hourglass) to help speed their finish. i was relatively equally unfair to both teams. i did not bypass renguard to accomplish this, so this should be taken to the [NE] forums if you wish to continue discussing it.
