Sure, I'd love to take on the map if it's okay with you. I know i haven't released a map before but that is due to the lack of my RenX skills. From that picture I can see that most of the terrain mesh has been done, which is what I struggle the most with. I can texture it and add the rest of the base and also do all of the Level Edit stuff. I will do a good job of it if you want me to take on the map.
