A Mr. T list in response to the Chuck Norris list. Read up.

1. Before Mr.T was born there were only 25 letters in the alphabet.
2. One night Mr. T took a 10 p.m. train home. He still refuses to give it back.
3. The T virus in Resident Evil is based on what happens to a person when they are exposed overwhelming amounts of pity inflicted by Mr. T. There is currently no cure.

6. Mr. T hates playing 'Rock Paper Scissors' because he doesn't believe anything could beat rock. He always chooses rock, and when someone throws paper, he says, "I win." If someone is foolish enough to dispute this, he takes his clenched fist and punches them in the face, then says, "I thought your paper would protect you."
7. Mr. T has removed Pee Wee Herman from existence for making fun of his cereal.
8. Mr. T scared the black out of Michael Jackson
9. Every time a church bell rings, Mr. T pities a fool.

14. Contrary to popular belief, Mr. T was not beat by Sylvester Stallone in Rocky III. He actually lost to Stallone's stuntman, Chuck Norris. It took 5 hours of work by a dozen makeup artists to make Chuck Norris ugly enough to be a believable Stallone. Even with Chuck Norris, it was still necessary to use 3 metric tons of animal tranquilizers to knock Mr. T out long enough for a 10 count.
15. The last man who made eye contact with Mr. T was Ray Charles.
16. Death is Mr. T's way of saying 'Slow the fuck down'.

17. Mr. T was almost involved in a second car crash. To avoid the crash, he folded his arms and slowly shook his head. The car decided it was safer to avoid Mr. T.

18. When Mr. T received his star on Hollywood's Walk of Fame, he made his hand prints after the cement was dry.

19. When Mr. T folds his arms, the U.S. Terror Alert Level is raised to gold.
