hi everyone im new to c and c renegade but i have a good idea for c and c renegade 2 why not make it just like renegade first person shoot up but rather that the buildings all ready there why dont they make a one that lets you build your own and put them where you want and how you want them but just like red alert 2 style looking down on them then when you finished go to renegade mode if you like and go around them and explore your surroundings like that in first person and of course have some new weapons and ppl and maybe some water too so you can buy boats and other things like that what do you think let me know plz
