Working at Future Shop can be pretty fun. When I was in High School, I had my co-op placement there in the merchandising department. All I did most of the time was print price tags for items that had them missing, put items where they belong, organize the monster cable section, and so on.

I also like cookies and I prefer KitKat, but sometimes I also eat Bounty or some Digestive cookies. Those are pretty much the only good candy bars that I found in Canada after living here for 6 years.

I wonder how it is in USA....
