There is perhaps no curse worse in this game then those foolish enough to aide thier enemy. No matter how often one may tell them to stop some new players simply feel the need to continue blasting away with the Gizmo.

True, some mean well either from lack of experience or trying to heal ACTUAL friendly units but there are still some that find it amusing to allow an APC, yes I said APC, kill a structure.

Thier plague on this game is perhaps only surpassed by the dreded Island MRLS nOObs.

All those that have the skill wait for the 20th.

Long live the Republic.
