If actually nwever killed everything on that mission. I was always constantly bombarded with Nuclear missiles and telsa tank rushes. As soon as I was able to get a sizable force, I just rushed through one of the weak points in his base and destroyed the kremlin. Those units he had around it were pretty tough.
This reminds me of the last soviet mission on Yuri's Revenge. Where you destroy Yuri's fortress, which was in transylvania. I captured everything on the map and killed his fortress with slave miners and their shovels.
