Anyone who knows at least the basics of C++, can you help me try to understand this damn awful question? My head hurts like hell by going over and over again trying to figure out why the answer is number 3. First, I was beginning to understand why it was 3, and now (after going over it so many times) my head is so fried I don't even remember how it works. I'm done trying to figure this out, my head hurts a lot and it's just pissing me off.

Remember, the answer is 3 (letter C) but I want to know why.

(This is a review I brought home to get ready for a test)

Thanks.
