Grammer, eh? Well woulda been nicer if you had helped correct then, maybe.

It is the year 2210, North Korea and China are very technologically advanced. One day they decide to attack the rest of the world with their laser cannon. An anynomous group then attack Korea and China, but fortunatly for them, the assault does little damage. Much of the world is now destroyed and the rest is under the rule of Alex Chi-Ching. A small group of freedom fighters lead by a four man council emerges to challenge Chi-Ching's power.

And i guess you could fit the Ashly thing in how you wanted. I think that looks better though.
