That means rotating wont help, that sucks.

Just try moving the controller around on top of the agt to make em look as good as you can. Id rather have offset guns than have to re weld my agt.

(Edit: i might re weld my AGT because it is only four corners but turning it could seriously mess up gameplay. You might just be able to turn the whole terrain including the AGT and then redo all the LE work. Sounds like a lot though for mis alining guns.)
