On to Goztow, I'm glad you put "healthy" in quotations because I'm not sure I agree that pretending that humans don't have negative feelings is healthy.
Yes, that's why they are there.

You know how stupid it seems to me to type out swear words? I can understand you swear when you get killed. I also say swear words. But typing them out? I mean:

- you need to do F2 and type it
- during that period you can get killed again, but then you will say "hey n00b you type killed me"
- you can get killed again while typing that
- noone cares you didn't like getting killed. Say it to your dog, he'll listen

I fail to see why people make an effort to type out swearing in a server.
