That wasn't nessecarly directed at you, sorry if it sounded like it. It was just building up and up and it's been getting dang annoying when my conversations on mod ideas now become this nearly everytime:

Me: I think xxx idea would work quite well.
Someone Else: Yea but it's not possible.
Me: What do you mean it's not possible? It's easier then drawing a stick figure!
Someone Else: Whatever. It's still not possible.
Me: You see it in-game everytime you play MP in Ren......
Another Someone Else: That's possible?!?!
Someone Else: Dude, whatever, just shut up. You don't know what you're talking about.

5 seconds later I've got it running and no one cares....

I'm not saying that you guys have to treat us/them like gods. I'm just saying ease down on the topic invasions and flames, ie, be polite. Modders aren't likely going to not give you a mod just because you're flaming, it just might take longer as I know some people would take a few motivational dips if they see a few people do one little thing wrong and get pounced on by flames.

I'm not saying you guys are cruel or that something like "I'm not going to release my mod because you guys are jerks!", I'm just saying it might make some motivational dips with lots of people thinking so many things are impossible and all.

Anyhow, it's just my mindless rambeling that I need to get out in order to feel better (and boy has it helped), lol. I know to the rest of ya it seems like nonsense but it's coming from my point of view, which is, naturally, alien to everyone else (I guess that's what makes us unique).
