Uh, me too. What on earth am i supposed to do. I have telewest blueyonder 4meg connection. I have no idea what a router is, all i have is a Modem. My firewall is called PC guard that i got free from the blueyonder site and there is nothing on there about ports.

I really dont want to have to install another firewall as ZA is crap and pc guard dont let me install other firewall programs while its installed anyway. Plus pcguard has spyware and virus protection and even when i shut my firewall down it still gives me the negotiating port crap.

If i could allow ports thru my firewall then i might have a chance but removing pcguard would mean installing 3-4 other programs. unless sum1 can point me too a free firewall,anti-virus and anti-spyware program that updates itself...
