Blazer is correct please do not DI anything from that site.

But the fact of the matter is there are a number of bots out there that work really well. I am not gonna debate their existence as I found at least eight with a minimum of effort. Some of them require a little knowledge to make them work (a few were beyond my meager skills but there was a help forum) but they are out there. I even found whole forums dedicated to cheating and the creation of cheats, hacks, and bots. The best way to combat this is to have people who care and want to work to combat this. this issue is why we have a new policy on gameplay in our servers and tolerate no BS anymore. and gamesexpzed was not one of them.
