In Jackson 100+ Harley Davidson owners (including me) showed up to a Funeral in Lansing to protect the family from these people. They were scared shitless and when the cops left that were protecting them they all got back in their cars and left before the funeral started. Fuck those motherfuckers, they are lucky that the people with us aren't violent otherwise they would have had the shit kicked out of them, but then again, we aren't stereo typical bikers.
