Canada... HA!

Ok now to the matter at hand, yes Iran does need to be dealt with but the UN has a strangle hold on the situation and it will be impossible for the US to go over their heads again without some kind of consequences. We need to get Russia to stop supporting these bastards, even China is worried about Iran having nukes because they don't even want a war with Iran. China knows that if Iran goes to war they will not hesitate to use nuclear weapons. It is very scary when China gets worried because the most aloof "we don't give a shit what you do as long as it doesn't effect us." is getting involved.
