I've been told recently, especially by my own clan, that this somehow involves me in one way or another, according to Crimson or something. I honestly have absolutely no idea what is going on, I haven't played Renegade in months! I was told that she tracked down my IP, and a few of the attacks led to me. Like I said, I've been away from Ren so long I have no idea whats going on. This is the second god damned time I have been falsely accused for bullshit like this, and I have a person I know who is likely to frame me for it too. If anyone knows ANYTHING about this, and this includes crimson, please post here as soon as possible.

p.s.

If I had actually done this, I would definitely been smart enough to use a proxy
