Umm, something which is useful to know at times for anyone who doesn't already.

1000 point chars have 350hp total, the ob does 300 damage - so u can take a direct hit and keep on walking. Used mainly on under when u can walk to the pp and place an ion - simply by walking straight to it.

Potential problems are obvious - you only have 50hp left so if u get shot at you're dead and also anyone listening for the ob going off may come to investigate.
