Man, I should have just killed myself again with an engi.. I was joking though... Seriously.. You don't lose points for killing yourself in the Renegade that I play.

I don't really ladder whore that much, especially since my computer can only handle around 12 player games at the most before going all wacko, so that's why my ranking's that bad in the first place. I just kinda wanted a sig because it looked so empty underneath my post. It is kinda cool that I was that close though.. Maybe if I lose a game or too then I'll get that rank.
