Well, people here make cheese from goat milk, so i guess sheep milk ain't so strange. I guess all kinds of milk could be turned into cheese, though I don't know if anyone ever tried it with human milk...

Nah, rather not try it with human milk. We, as humans, are disgusting enough as it is. After all, we eat other animal's babies, and the animals themselves.

you are a vegetarian?

Oh hell no. Vegetarians miss out on steaks and chicken sandwiches, which I couldn't live without.
