I have been playing Renegade since way before renguard was around. so I am familure with the game, and all requirements to play it. Then...along came renguard...

before I go on. I have included a dxdiag report.

Simple question: why is it that before i installed renguard..(yes I have the latest released patch)..My game never froze up once..but now..It is so bad that sometimes I have to reboot my PC as I cannot return to the desktop because the screen has froze up and turned dark.. Hmmmm??

Please refere to the dxdiag report before suggesting that I need more ram or a better video card..thank you!
