only had it happen once but it was still funny all the same. i was on a server i usually don't play on and i had an ion sydney. i saw a sbh and i chased him down and killed him after about 4 shots. he then typed in "msn you fucking aimbot hacker!" i typed in "your not always completely stealth" and someone else on the server said the same. then later on the same guy was out in the feild with a sbh and i killed him again and he typed in "there's something strange about msn" he then left shortly after that.
