fyi there is a new one in progress but just like everything else in this community I'm sure it will never see the finished light of day.

Ummmm...ok from your post I get this:

1)you have never played this mod

2)you have no idea where the current mod is heading

To get any knowledge about this subject, which i think you could use, go to the reborn forums/site and see for yourself

I not only have played it till the other day when I formatted my other PC it was still installed as well. I know where the forums are and trust me I have more knowledge about reborn and the community as a whole than you can even grasp. Don't get me wrong I hope it does come out and I hope it doesn't suck just like I hope for renalert and a new hope but I'm not going to hold my breath.
