On top of the stupid no Tanya rule, A1 server messed up the game balance totally with the crappy starting money. With 900 starting credits, the soviets get Tesla Tanks on first dump on most of the maps and Mammoth Tanks on the first dump on RA_Bunker. Not to mention that I get WARNED for having the highest ping and they actually "recommended" people to shut off background program to "reduce" latency (even it is does, it would be minimal). He failed to know the fact that the only servers for Red Alert: APB are half a globe away for me. (They did remove that warning for high pingers, though)
