you don't know how many SBH'S are around.... and if i plant a nuke i wait a little bit outside...so they waste their time with seeking while the timer count down k, a sacura...no matter what...everyone knows what i mean...someone with a n00bjet...even a stolen one should be possible...

Yeah, but most of the time I would rather hope that the rest of my team can find the beacon and disarm it rather than the sbh get my orca and proceed to cover the beacon with it. The only reason I would get out if is I managed to kill an sbh and see no other ones around.. I'll take that chance most of the time because I rarely see more than 1 or 2 sbh go to nuke the same building.
