Moe, you're a newbie here, and that's okay! We all were at one point or another. I was one not to long ago. But when you try flaming people who have been here longer and know more than you, you stop being a newb and start being a n00b.

To answer the original question of "Why not?", because he's a respected member on the Renegade community, and you are not. There's your answer, now please stop being a dumbass, for your sake and the sake of everyone reading your messeges.
