install it to the "server" with any old serial starting with 0669 and then change is in "server.ini".

@alex: you do know giving out your serial that you use is really stupid thing to do? when someone else install's and runs there FDS they "steal" (well, not "steal" since you gave it to the public) and as soon as you take the server down you will no longer be able to connect it again. well, ide edit that post of youres before anyone else "steals" it.
