I recently bought cnc decade and found i was finally able to play renegade after a year of renguard taking it down. I happily loaded it up and played. Then for the second time everybody and their grandma accused me of cheating because I was un-killable by half of their team. I went to get renguard, and when i loaded it i noticed that there was a serial issue. I looked it up and found i have t ochange the file directory in one of two ways, neither worked. After messing around in places i shouldn't be everytime I went into decade to load renegade it wouldnt work, itd simply ignore the command. I recalled that it asked me to re-install renegade after the hole Serial issue thingy. i did and when i reloaded it there is a "transfer error" with tiberium sun. Somehow ifixed that and now its with red alert. How do i fix this and why does renguard always mess up renegade?
