Are you called asshole everywhere you go, do people give you the number 1 sign while driving. Does the smell of ben gay excite you while your looking for your viagra. Does your dog look more inticing then your old lady now days. Have your balls shrivled up and died for the most part. Do you feel the need to belittle others cause you have a small penis to make yourself feel like the big man. Do you put others down cause yourself esteem is in the crapper. Does life just generally suck for you and you feel the need to lash out at others.

If this describes you and you want to demeen others and have them beg at your feet. Grovel before you cause you have a small penis and this makes you feel like the big man. If you read up on history and the nazi party seemed inviting. then i have just want you need.

Do you often times find yourself struggling to find the proper punctuation marks to fit into your sentences? Do others tediously point out your mistakes to the point of where you just want to break down and cry? Are you finding yourself unable to ask questions, and find yourself only typing declarative sentences? The answer may be as simple as the questions you are trying to ask. What is this miracle punctuation mark you ask? The question mark! Yes, the question mark, that odd little symbol at the end of sentences that tells others you are trying to ask a question. By using this, you could solve many of your linguistic issues and find yourself to be a happier person because of it! Yes, it really is that simple. Go ahead and try it. You will thank yourself for it.
