
Subject: Behind The Scenes of the Iraq war.
Posted by anort893 on Wed, 14 May 2003 23:33:42 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Quote:what about Palastinian persecution though? I'm fairly certain that a great deal of problems would be solved (though not all) if we just gave them part of some country. There has NEVER been a palastinian state...and that's one of the things they are fighting for. Jewish persecution, fine, lets end it. But we should end all persecution...not just Jewish the thing is, that these "palastinians" are indistinguishable from the rest of the Arab population in the area. There is no such thing as a Palastinian race. The Arabs have plenty of homes in the Middle East, but the Jews have only a country that is about three miles wide.
