Thanks for the comments everyone.

It wasn't an easy decision to make...closing down a site you created is hard to do, but alas life will go on.

I wanted to again thank everyone (there are way too many to name) who have supported me and my sites while I was in the CNC community (first RA2MD and then RenRealm). A big thanks and a round of applause goes to Lefty for taking RenRealm to the level it reached. He did an excellent job. Hard to think he knew little HTML when I first asked him to join as my Co-Webby.
