despite all the crying, non00bs has the best players among all communities except clanwars.cc and maybe jelly games.

before you flame (cry) me, just a reminder that so called "pro servers" such as n00bstories and pits lost to us. if you think im wrong then go ahead and set up another game. you pick 15-20 players from the top of your list and i will pick non00bs regulars.

i agree with the part that moderators treat others like shit, but hey, welcome to the internetS!

IcyyTouchNon00bs has a different type of gaming atmosphere. If you don't play to win every game then you won't like it there. The quality of players in the server aren't matched anywhere else. We've challenged every community and won each time, except against Clanwars, which really isn't a server community.
