all of the errors are on that line

It seems you've download an old version of the scripts source.

Download the latest one (2.8)

Also, be sure you have installed the Microsoft SDK which includes all the windows header files needed to compile it.

Sparkmist wrote on Wed, 19 July 2006 14:55But there might an even better way, using scripts.dll.. I dont know because I couldn't call scripts.dll functions with the noob scripting lang I used for my crappy bot

It's because it isn't possible to call it from outside
