I know, I wish I could.

I have enough knowledge in html, css and flash to make one right now.

But at the moment I do not have the content or the resources(Money) to get a server to host, register a domain name and put something on it, but if I did, I would for sure.

(Geocities, and Googlepages suck!)

Once I get a little better at cartooning, i'll probably start working on getting one.

And don't say i'm a good for nothing slacker and that I should get a job. Haha.
