i dont think anybody has landed on the moon, due to the fact the suns radiation would kill them. there are many more facters.

What do you think?

Wouldn't the radiation kill the space walkers, shuttle riders or Space Station orbiters in the last 47 years? Or do they wear ozone generators in their suits and craft? For that matter, where there are holes in the Ozone already, wouldn't there be a circle of death where those holes hit the surface!?!?
