It's true man.. Cat's are the root of all evil, they pee'd on my backpack once, and I went to skool with it, I had to wait in the office for my mom to pick me up for like 45 minutes!, my english class journal was drenched in cat pee.. now tell me, how the heck do you explain that to your teacher?

Would a turtle ever put you through that!, I think not!

And I don't know about you, but cat's always have this condescending manner they always walk with, like they think they're better than you or something, makes me just wanna get up and punch them in the face. (Of course I wouldn't.)

(Well, there is this one cat I have who is my friend., but still that's just one!)
