Go rent the movie "Andromeda Strain" The more I think about it, the more it is like Tiberium. It's a crystalline life form, it spreads and... It's actually a perfect match. The Andromeda Strain was a bit more dealy than Tiberium though. It killed in about 10 seconds. It removed the liquid from people's blood so they were essentially filled with sand. The Andromeda Strain could metabolise any material, so trying to irradiate just gave it more fuel to spread. Again just like tiberium spreading all over. Like I said try to find the movie its a really good one.
